Printer's Circular.

Many readers will remember the pulseless anxiety of the public in the early days of October, 1884, when hope for the safety of the steamship Arctic faded gradually out. On the night of October 10th, George M. Burns, a survivor from the lost ship, reached New York, and went to the Herald, knowing that paper paid well for news. His narrative was taken and put in type at a late hour—after 3 o'clock. The Herald's plan was to withhold the city circulation until an hour at which no other sheet could reprint the story from its columns.

A rumor of the arrival of a survivor reached the city editor of the Times, but his most trusted reporters worked until after 2 p. m., and found nothing reliable. The forms of the Times were closed, and the city editor started for home, disheartened and every nerve strained to painful tension over defeat. A few blocks were passed when a man jumped on the street car. He was sufficiently intoxicated to attempt familiarity with the conductor. The quick ear of the editor caught the words "Arctic—Herald." It was enough; he left the car, ran at the top of his speed to the Times office, and shouted, out of breath: "Stop the press!" A young man named South was called from the pressroom and promised fifty dollars if he could get the first copy of the Herald that came off the press. "Buy it, beg it, steal it, anything, so long as you get it." All the Times compositors were routed out of their beds by messengers, and stood at their cases, sticks in hand, like an army sure of a speedy and glorious victory. Forty minutes after the press was stopped, South came into the composing room, waving the wet sheet of the next morning Herald overhead. A shout arose. The story was given out in four lines "takes." In an hour it was all up and the presses were again set to work. They ran without intermission until 2 o'clock in the afternoon to supply the demand. The Herald not discovering the theft of the paper, adhered to the plan of withholding the city papers until seven o'clock, and then found the heavy edition dead on their hands. South got his fifty dollars, and the salary of the city editor was increased.

THIS season is a peculiar season. Some clothing men who buy their goods from Manufacturers and Jobbers, had to put an inferior article of clothing, such as Salinet, Union Cloth or shoddy, in their stock, for the sake of apparently meeting the prices which we, as manufacturers of our own goods, quote for our all-wool garments. Only our close attention to the manufacturing, and to the market, enables us to guarantee the articles sold, and to uphold the rule (which we were the first to establish in the west), of returning the money for anything bought of us and not satisfactory after taken if returned not soiled.

RHEUMATIC CURE NEVER FAILS.

Dr. BOSANKO'S PILE REMEDY AN ABSOLUTE CURE.

HOME TESTIMONY. Hear what ex-Mayor GAVETT, an influential prominent citizen of Peoria, says. Peoria, Ill., December 27, 1879. I have been for many years a sufferer from chronic rheumatism, suffering at times most excruciating pains, and depriving me of many of my sleep. After consulting a number of physicians and obtaining and trying many of their remedies, I have been cured, and after using four bottles of your Blood Purifier, in connection with it, I am now completely cured, free from any pain, able to attend to my business and feeling perfectly comfortable at night. Respectfully yours, F. B. GAVETT. FREE—Dr. Bosanko's Treatise on Rheumatism and Piles sent on application.

The Daily Republican.
PUBLISHED BY
HANSHER & MOSSER, PUBLISHERS
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
RECEIVED at the Post Office at Decatur, Ill., as second class mail matter.
MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 1, 1892.
"Hear Jewell at the tabernacle tonight."
Look out for spurious tickets. There are all sorts of them in circulation.
Vote the straight Republican ticket.
Every man on it is worthy the confidence and support of the whole party.
The victory will not be half so enjoyable unless you help to gain it by your own efforts.
It begins to look as though the thing was going to be nearly unanimous.
Don't forget that every vote is important. We are going to beat them, of course, but we want to make the majority as big as possible.
It is important that Republicans should get their votes in early. Don't put off voting until the afternoon, but go early.
CANNOT every Republican give one day to the cause of his party? The principles we are contending for are worth that much, at least.
REPORTS from all portions of the county speak of accessions to the Republican ranks. Prominent Democrats in nearly every township are among those who publicly announce their intention of voting for Garfield and Arthur.
LYMAN Trumbull for the Chinese.
Chinese ought to become citizens and voters, to encourage their immigration to this country.
LYMAN Trumbull.
[See amendment to Naturalization Bill introduced in the U. S. Senate in 1870.]
"Truly he is worthy the wrath of man to praise him," saith the good book, and the fact is being continually exemplified. The Democrats in their unhappy hour have forged a letter which they expected would injure Gen. Garfield, but it has only served to strengthen him before the people, by directing their attention to the wickedness of the opposition.
LOOK out for all sorts of stories tomorrow. The Democratic party was never in so desperate a condition as now, and never prepared to stoop quite so low. Voters may expect to have some new scandal, some fresh forgery, sprung at the polls to-morrow. Put no dependence in anything of the kind you may hear. To borrow the pointed story told by Mr. Matthews on Saturday night, "it's only a raw spot they have saved up to get into town upon." It is true that Brower Bunn has been in feeble health for some time past, but he still has strength and vitality enough to score the Reverend man deep enough to make him squirm and squel, and the indications are very fair for him to live long enough to administer another well-deserved flagellation after the election. Brower has made Sam howl with pain twice during the campaign, but if he gets half a chance he'll fairly paralyze him the next time.
THOSE men who are in the habit of going about in the community, shaking their heads wisely and remarking that if they were to tell what they know about their neighbors, the whole arrangement would be thick with scandals—this class of men, we repeat, justly receive the condemnation and anathemas of all good people. The following from the Review of this morning, shows the way these creatures have of squinting their slime, without seeming to do so: "We were taught when a boy to have respect for the aged and feeble. From Brower's speech no democrat can retain much respect for him, but we can and will refrain from saying some things about him, that would conclusively show that the less he says about other people the more consistent would he appear." WORK! WORK!!
Nothing remains for Republicans to do now but to give their careful attention to the polls to-morrow, get out a full vote and work upon the doubtful voters every hour until the election closes. Much can be done by well directed effort, and no man knows how much he can do in the way of work at the polls until he tries it. Let every Republican try the experiment of going to the polls and talking with his undecided neighbors. It is worth while to make the effort.
W. S. Hancock's Opinion
"The tariff question cannot affect the manufacturing interests of the country in the least. It is a matter that the General Government seldom cares to interfere with. It is only a local question."

TRUMBULL ON THE CHINESE.
The forgery by means of which the Democrats have sought to fix upon Gen.
Garfield undeserved odium is reacting upon them in more ways than one. Public opinion in Illinois has been directed to the official utterances of the Democratic nominee for governor, with reference to the Chinese question, with the following result:
On the 4th of July, 1870, the pending question in the United States Senate being the adoption of an amendment to the Naturalization laws which are hereby extended to aliens of African nativity and persons of African decent, Mr. Trumbull offered the following amendment by adding the words, "or persons born in the Chinese Empire," which was rejected. [Congressional Globe, part 6, 2d Sess. 41st Cong. p. 5, 177.] In the course of the debate on this subject he used the following language: "The number of Chinese in this country is very small. There is no danger at present that this country will be overrun with pagans, and there is no necessity that we should throw up our hands in holy horror against the paganism of the Chinese. I think this is an imaginary danger." [Congressional Globe, p. 5, 164.]
"As a mere question of power under the Constitution we may refuse to receive Chinese. We may deny them the right to land on our shores, as we may the people of any other country, but that is not the American policy. Now, what is the objection to naturalizing these Chinese? We do not compel anybody to become an American citizen, but we provide the means by which a person of foreign birth may become a citizen of the United States. We do that by uniform rule, and whenever a Chinaman conforms to that rule it seems to me that he is clearly entitled to become a citizen as if he were born in England, or France, or Germany, or any other country outside the United States." [Ibid., p. 5, 165.]
"The pending amendment provides that persons from all nations may become naturalized except those who are born in China. Why exclude the inhabitants of China, the people from the oldest nation in the world, and who are so far advanced in art and literature?
Everybody else can be naturalized, the Hottentot and the cannibal, to use the language of the Senator from Oregon, but he proposes an amendment that shall exclude from naturalization the patient, the laborious, the industrious, the skillful, the intelligent Chinaman." [Ibid., p. 5, 165.] "I ask the Senators to look at the position in which we are placing ourselves.
We have now by a distinct vote placed on this bill a provision that any person of the African race, or of African decent, may be naturalized. We have struck the word white out of the naturalization laws so far as it applies to the Hottentot to the pagan from Africa; now, it is proposed to deny the right of naturalization to the Chinaman, who is infinitely above the African in intelligence, in manhood, and in every respect?" [Ibid., p. 5, 177.]
The above extracts are no forgeries, but taken from the speeches of Judge Trumbull as recorded in the Congressional Globe, which every one may see. Workmen will see from the above that Trumbull places the highest estimate upon the Chinese, and would encourage them to come to this country and become citizens. He fought for it a whole day in the United States Senate.
He places the Chinese on a par with the Irishman, Englishman, and German, and infinitely above the African in intelligence, in manhood, and in every respect. In the above it will be seen that what the Democrats have attempted to fasten on Gen. Garfield by an infamous forgery, now fully exposed, is clearly proven on their candidate for Governor by an appeal to his public record, open to the inspection of every voter.
"How would a tariff for revenue only affect your business?" was asked last Thursday of an agent of one of the best cotton mills in New England, situated in Massachusetts. "It would make this country a dumping-ground for all of England's surplus goods at a nominal price, and so break down the market," was the reply. "How could such a result be met?" was further asked. "Only by underselling England, of course." "And how could you undersell England?" "Only by reducing the cost of labor." There is where the issue of the campaign reaches the poor man's pocket.—*Longer Why and

A Pastor Made Happy.
I have been greatly troubled with my kidneys and liver for over twenty years, and during that entire time I was never free from pain. My medical bills were enormous, and I visited the Hot and White Springs, noted for the curative qualities of their water. I am happy to say I am now a well man, and entirely as the result of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. With such glorious results I am only too glad to testify regarding the remedy which has made me so happy.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE ITEMS.
The Superb should remark audibly that forgery is merely a "local issue." Where is your fresh rookback, Barnum? It won't do to have a full run.
There are still a few decent Democrats left whom you can drive over to Garfield if you will whop'er up lively for three days more.
Was there ever such a spectacle? A great political party enters upon the last days of a Presidential campaign asking to be put in power solely because it has forged a letter against the other party's candidate! No other issue is presented. The party platform has been declared a lie, and the party's candidate has been forced to show that he is as ready to break a pledge as to make one.
General Hancock is said to be so disgusted with politics. Barnum has made them filthy.
Can any man name a single first-class reason why the Democratic party, under the lead of glorious local issue Hancock and Forgery Barnum, should be put in power? This question has been asked again and again for the past four months, but the campaign closes with it unanswered.
The workingmen can make "Chinese cheap labor" sure in this country by voting for Hancock and "a tariff for revenue only." Manufacturers will be compelled to hire Chinamen then to compete with European labor. Let the American laborer put this in his pipe and smoke it.
The whole country holds its nose as the Democratic campaign splutters itself out.
Congressman Randolph Tucker, of Virginia, in the course of an elaborate argument for free trade, made in Congress on May 8, 1878, said: "Great Britain opens her arms to our products; we close our doors against hers. Now, what a market for our raw material, for our products, if we would only take the hand which Great Britain extends to us for free trade between us." This is sound Democratic doctrine. That is what the Solid South and its ally, the Northern Democratic party believe. How does it strike the Irish laborer, and the American laborer? Do they wish to extend their hands for free trade and exchange their wages for British wages?
A "tariff for revenue only" would make Chinese cheap labor the only salvation of American manufacturers.
Senator Conkling on Barnum's Forgery From his Speech at Utica, Oct. 25.
I think it is indecent to forge a letter [applause], and then after it has been denied and nailed to the counter as a forgery and falsehood, to photograph it and publish it and send out a snow storm of copies to fall down all over the land to fool and mislead nobody knows how many people. I think that is indecent. It ought to be. [A voice, "It is now."] And now that I have referred to the subject I will make one other remark about it. In the first place no practiced man who has been trained and seasoned in public life was fool enough to write that letter. In the next place, a man who was fool enough to write it, even if he was knave enough, would not now be fool enough to deny it. And I have reason to believe that the second son of November will not rise before all the world and his wife will know who wrote that letter and the purpose for which it was done, and when they do they will know that it was not written by the man against whom it is being meanly and falsely used.
It is no common emergency which induces hundreds of the foremost business men in the city to march through the streets in mid-afternoon, by way of recording their protest against a change in the national administration, and which assembles in Wall street to listen to a political speech two or three thousand and representatives of every department of the financial and commercial activity of New York. One of the most notable features of a very remarkable campaign has been the weight which has been thrown into the republican scale by the business men of this city. Strongly disposed, as they have habitually been, to anything like combined political action, the great majority of our commercial class have, this year, recognized with most emphatic unanimity the necessity of making their influence felt on the side of the party of public honor and individual freedom.
Whenever may profit by financial disturbance and commercial distrust, it is certainly not those who conduct legiti-mate enterprises and assist the healthy expansion of our trade, and the voice of the conservative business men of New York will be heard on the 2d of November with such distinctness and decision as even yesterday's demonstration has but feebly prepared us for.
New York Times, Oct. 29th.

TELEGRAPHIC TRICKS.
Another One at Quincy.
The Evidence of the Forgery Admitted by Truth.
NEW YORK, October 30.—Judge A.
J. Dittenhoeffer, a prominent lawyer of this city, and the attorney of the Truth newspaper since its establishment, publishes to-day in the New York newspapers a letter in which he states that on two occasions the proprietors of that paper have admitted to him that the Mores letter was a forgery, and sought his advice as to the wisdom of the Truth coming out squarely and admitting that it had been imposed upon, and making such reparation as they could. Judge Dittenhoeffer advised them to do so, and the owner, Mr. Hart, promised to publish editorially on Wednesday the following:
"Since the publication of Gen. Garfield's explicit denial, we are in doubt as to the authenticity of the Mores letter."
This was to be followed up by a full and complete retraction of the libel.
BOSTON, Oct. 30.—The alleged Mores letter was exploded this forenoon by a Traveler reporter and two other newspaper men. A call was made on Geo.
A. Tarbox, the justice of the peace who signed the affidavit of Mrs. Clara T.
Mores. He stated that an agent of W. H. Barnum, in company with him, went to the house of Mrs. Mores, No.
27 Winter street, the 26th of October last, and paid Mrs. Mores a large sum of money on condition that she would sign the statement that Barnum's agent had made out. She stated this morning that she never had a son by the name of H. L. Mores, or never knew one by that name. She adopted a young man, a relative of hers, named Geo. P. Hobbs, when a small boy, and he assumed the name of Mores. He is a young man about 20 years old and did not write any letter.
The secretary of the board of overseers of the poor department states that he has helped Mrs. Mores, as she is very poor. It goes to show that she would do anything for money, and that was why she signed her name to the affidavit.
BOSTON, Oct. 30.—The Herald special from Lynn contains the following
affidavit:
COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHU-SETTS, ESSEX COUNTY, LYNN, Oct. 30.
—Personally came before me Clara T.
Mores, of Lynn, county of Essex, and state of Massachusetts, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says she married Samuel C. Mores in the city of Lowell, Mass.; that she has had three children by said Samuel C. Mores; that the first was a girl named Martha Mores; that the second was a son named George P.
Mores, who died when he was a year old; that the third was a son named George H. C. Mores, who lives in the town of Medford, and that the above are all the children she has had; that her husband had three sons by a former wife, Samuel C. Mores, Francis A. Mores, and Julian A. Mores, and these are all the sons he has had.
CLARA T. MORES.

LAST RALLY BUT ONE.

The last grand Republican demonstration of the campaign in Decatur will take place to-night, and every Republican is urged to participate in the street parade. The procession will move south after 7 o'clock. Let the old men, young men, working men, business men, professional men, colored men, and all Republicans in all parts of the city report for duty, and aid in making this last demonstration a big success—one that will give the Democrats another push down the hill of Defeat. There will not be a torch for everybody, but turn out anyhow and join in the procession.

SATURDAY evening at about 7 o'clock, Policeman Brewer found a man in a drunken sleep, at the foot of the court house steps. He was a powerfully built fellow, and when he found that the officer intended to waltz him off to the cooler, he resisted strenuously. It was all that Brewer and Lintner could do to land the stranger in the calaboose. He had on his person over eighty-five dollars in cash, and a fine silver watch, and had he not been poked up he certainly would have been relieved of his valuables by some thief. He is a resident of Pennsylvania, and was on his way to Blue Mound on a visit to his sister who resides there. He was very profuse in his thanks to Brewer on Sunday morning for his opportunity and kindly care.

The Athenian Society had a very pleasant and profitable meeting at the high school building on Friday evening, which was largely attended. The following was the programme of exercises: Recitation—"Woman," Miss Ida McCormick. "How William of Normandy Won his Bride," Miss Mary Lukens. "Old and Blind," Miss Hallie Kemper. "Birthplace of Burns," Miss Angie Sweeney. Debate—Subject, "Resolved, That inventions are detrimental to the laboring classes of America." Affirmative—Lillie Brown and McClelland; negative—Gus Perry and Hopson. The decision of the judges was rendered in favor of the affirmative side.

ON Saturday afternoon a large number of people were somewhat surprised on beholding a farmer driving a pair of horses through the park. The fellow was brought to a standstill by Officer Brewer, who drove the horses out of our "beauty spot," and jailed his prisoner. The farmer's excuse for such an open violation of the ordinance was a queer and simple one. He said he thought a good deal of his horses, and he let them go where they "d-d place," and all he ever did was to follow them. He had been drinking unwisely. He is sober now.

It will be of personal interest to all friends of temperance, and more particularly to the many admirers of the ladies in this city and county to learn that at Boston Friday last Miss Frances E. Willard, of Evanston, was elected President of the Women's National Christian Temperance Union, and Mary A. Woodbridge, of Ohio, Recording Secretary. Both ladies have spoken in Decatur quite frequently, and are well deserving of the honors thus conferred upon them.

With what had been promised before Sunday the collections and subscriptions yesterday at the First M. E. Church will take up one bond, pay the interest on one and pay for the new furnace. If the brethren had "pitched in" for lifting two bonds it could have been done easily, but as it is the debt is being reduced, and for a year, probably, the church will take a rest. Dr. McCabe preached grandly to grand congregations, and as a financial solicitor he is a decided success. As a singer he has few equals. It is vint has made a fine impression upon our citizens.

The gospel temperance meeting held at the tabernacle on Sunday afternoon was quite well attended by the friends of the cause. A fervent prayer was offered by Rev. I. S. Richmond, and Rev. W. H. McGrover delivered an able and entertaining address. Splendid music was furnished by Messrs. D. L. Dunn, C. B. Prescott, Paul Smith, Mrs. A. W. Conklin, Misses Jeanette Bowers and Alida Handy.

The late Charles F. Williams, the Wabash brakeman who was killed at Greenwood, his funeral took place from St. John's church on Saturday afternoon, the Rev. Walter H. Moore officiating. He leaves a young wife, who about a month ago was a maiden.

A sad accident took place on Saturday afternoon on West William street, at the residence of Mr. P. T. Frost. His mother, Grandma Frost, whose age is over 70 years, accidentally fell down the stairway leading to the upper rooms, and broke her right arm a few inches above the wrist. Dr. Bumstead was summoned to set the broken member. The lady was also severely stunned by the fall but is reported to be resting as comfortably as can be expected to-day.

JOHN CLARK, the Mattson robber who was arrested here last week on a telegram by Officer Howes and didn't get a nick for his trouble is now in the Mattson jail. The officer from that town came here after Clark and put handcuffs on him before getting aboard the train. When in Moultrie county he eluded the vigilance of the officer on a timely pretext and jumped off the train. He was recaptured on Saturday, his hands yet ornamented with the darbies.

The daily and weekly editions of the REPUBLICAN will contain a carefully prepared and perfectly reliable tabular statement of the result of to-morrow's election in this county; also the very latest associated press dispatches from all parts of the Union.

We understand that there are several belts of considerable magnitude on the result of the election in New York among Decatur men. Somebody is bound to lose—/teme.

You don't say so.

LAST RALLY BUT ONE.

The Republican Demonstration Saturday Night—A Housing Speech by Col. Matthews, of Urbana.

Near Hon. William R. Jewell at the Tabernacle To-Night.

The streets of the city presented a lively appearance on Saturday night, being the occasion of the last Republican demonstration but one of the present eventful presidential campaign. The principal streets were thronged with a multitude of people of both sexes, and the thoroughfares were brilliantly illuminated with torches borne by a solid phalanx of Garfield voters and boys, commanded by Capt. George S. Duffee. The procession, headed by the Decatur Band, paraded the first ward, and soon after 8 o'clock.

THE SPEAKING commenced at the court house, in the presence of a vast audience—all the seats being filled, and standing room at one time being at a premium.

The meeting was called to order by W. C. Johns, Esq., who introduced COL. M. W. MATTHEWS, of Urbana. He was received with vociferous cheers. In the present campaign Mr. Matthews has delivered over fifty speeches, and his voice was therefore a little hoarse. But he soon warmed up with his subject as he proceeded. An attempt to report his rapid speech would not do the gentleman justice. It embraced an able and eloquent discussion of all the points at issue in the campaign between the Republican and Democratic parties, and a scathing arraignment of those reckless champions of the Democratic cause, who stoop to intimidation, murder, tissue, ballots, lies, and forgery, to gain votes. He interspersed his argumentative address with innumerable laughable anecdotes, which he applied in every instance with telling effect. The remarks of the speaker were greeted with thundering applause, and all remained in the room until the close of the speech. It was a splendid effort, and fell upon good soil.

TO-NIGHT The closing Republican rally of the campaign will occur. There will be another grand torchlight procession, and Hon. W. R. Jewell, of Danville, who spoke here on the night of October 12th, with such general acceptability, will speak at the tabernacle. Let there be a full turnout of Republicans.

President Hayes and Party.

It became known to a few on Saturday evening that President Hayes and party would pass through Decatur over the Wabash road at about 12 o'clock that night, but later intelligence announced that the train containing the distinguished travelers would not arrive until about noon on Sunday. At 2 o'clock on yesterday afternoon the special train, consisting of a dining-room car and an elegant parlor sleeping coach, with President Hayes on board, stopped at the Union depot for about thirty minutes. There was an eager crowd of about 300 people on the platform, and all had a good look at the president, while he stood on the rear platform of his car talking to Col. White and a number of other gentlemen who gathered about him. The president will vote at his home, Fremont, Ohio, to-morrow.

The Entertainment To-Night.

Speaking of Joe Murphy and the play of "Kerry Gow," to be presented with all its varied attractive features at the opera house to-night, the Philadelphia Press has said:

The entire performance last night was remarkably smooth and well sustained in even the minor roles. Mr. Murphy gracefully maintained the jovial, rollicking, humorous character, with direct never at fault, action free and natural, and manner both tender and strong. He introduced several songs, which were promptly and enthusiastically received, and kept up an exhilarating flow of animal spirits, which found a glowing reflection in the audience. The support is all that could be desired; not a point is strained; there are no rusty hinges, and everything moves on with wholesome precision. The cast includes Miss M. Lodiaki Young as Nora Drew, Miss Charlene Wiseman as Alice, David Mr. H. Rees Davis as Major Greg, Mr. Armstrong as Patrick Drew, Mr. Butler as Captain Basil Sidney, Mr. Murray as Valentine Hay, and Mr. Martin as Joe. The production is a full and complete performance unusually symmetrical.

The Libby Prison Letters.

An audience of about 500 people greeted Chaplain McCabe at the tabernacle on Saturday evening, to hear his celebrated lecture entitled "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison." Dr. McCabe, who has just returned from Kansas where he had preached 50 sermons in the interest of Methodist church edifices, was introduced by Dr. Goodwin at 7:45 o'clock, and for nearly two hours the gentleman stood up before his deeply interested auditors, and related the bright side of his eventful experience near Winchester, Va., and in Libby Prison at Richmond. The recital, which was clothed in beautiful and forcible language, was full of pleasing incidents, and showed that while the Union soldiers suffered untold misery in Libby Prison, they also made the best of their wretched situation and in many ways helped each other to be cheerful and hopeful. The lecture was a grand treat, and a financial success. The chaplain is a stalwart Republican, as a matter of course, and though he tried hard not to offend the finer sensibilities of his Democratic hearers by unpleasant allusions, quite a number of nettled mossbacks arose and left the room. The chaplain opened the exercises by singing two songs, "My Mother's Withered Hand," and "The Sword of Bunker Hill," and after he had finished his talk he sang another song.

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. P. Vail will shake up opposition at Maroa to-night.

Chaplain McCabe left for Chicago this morning with a letter to to-morrow.

Arthur E. Kinney will arrive here from Kansas to-night or to-morrow at noon.

George Dodson is home from Chicago, where he has been acquiring the engraver's art.

M. M. Strader and Geo. T. Tucker were the polite ushers at the McCabe lecture at the Tabernacle on Saturday evening.

The Joe Murphy "Kerry Gow" troupe is at the St. Nicholas. See the play at the opera house to-night.

Clay Dempsey, who is one of the traveling salesmen for the Decatur Furniture Company, is home, and will cast his first vote for president to-morrow.

General Moore is home from a protracted campaign tour through western and northern counties.

We learn that Mary, the four-year old daughter of A. F. Jensen, is alarmingly ill with croup, and that there is but little or no hope of her recovery.

II. Jay Caldwell arrived in the city on Saturday night. He is practicing law at Rico, Colo., and has acquired a residence in the Centennial State; but he "paired off" with a democrat before he left.

Marshal Barker yesterday received a telegram notifying him that three prisoners had broken out of the Monticello jail. No description of the escaped jail birds was given, which fact accounted for Bab's temporary wrath.

Judge Wilson Morrow and wife, of Indianapolis, spent yesterday with Dr. Goodwin and family. Judge M. returned home this morning, leaving Mrs. Morrow for a few days to visit Dr. Goodwin, she being his only sister.

Lon Elder, late cashier of the Wabash freight office, this city, has become the cashier of Paymaster Shepherd's car. He entered upon his duties some days ago. He is home to-day, and will vote for straight to-morrow.

Chas. F. Armstrong, of Chicago, is in the city, having lately returned from an extended business trip through Arkansas. He says the people in the country districts of that state are in a wretched condition and disposed to kill their time away.

General Oglesby, who returned home from his campaign speech-making on Saturday, started for Mattoon this morning, but on receiving a telegram announcing the death of a relative at Elkhart, he gave up his trip. He will be here to vote to-morrow.

George R. Yates, Decatur's colored student in the law department of the Wesleyan University at Bloomington, is home to vote. He will deliver a lecture on phonology at Harriestown to-morrow night, and will also give an exhibition of his ventriloquial powers.

Col. Milton W. Matthews, of Urbana, editor of the Champaign County Herald, and republican nominee for re-election to the office of State's Attorney, arrived in the city Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock and gave us a call. After delivering his ringing speech at the court house he left for home at 10:30 o'clock.

George D. Haworth, of this city, has lately been granted letters patent for a wire-loop machine; also J. W. Vincent, for a corn planter check tower. Last week C. C. Burroughs was granted a patent for an invention, the name of which we have forgotten.

Rev. Geo. H. Thayer, of Bourbon, Ind., known to every one in the vicinity as a most influential citizen and Christian minister of the M. E. Church, says: "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to SUTTON'S CONSUMPTION CURE." Drs. Matchett & France, physicians and druggists of the same place, say: "It is a perfect satisfaction such as nothing else has done. For Lame Back, Side or Chest, don't fail to use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. We recommend these remedies." Sold by Dr. A. J. Stoner.
